Welcome to the 5th Annual Desert Open Studios

January 24–26, 2025
(Friday through Sunday)
11 AM–4 PM each day

To all art lovers and curious minds:

We're thrilled to present the fifth annual Desert Open Studios tour, where artists across the Coachella Valley will be swinging their studio doors wide to you!

DISCOVER ART IN ACTION

Step behind the scenes of the Coachella Valley's vibrant artistic culture. Explore intimate studios and larger creative hubs—spaces rarely seen by the public. View completed artworks and works-in-progress, in a wide variety of media and styles. Enjoy exclusive one-on-one access to the artists themselves.

And all for free!

With a record-breaking 160 artists participating this year, the Desert Open Studios tour continues to act as a powerful catalyst for creativity.

Event co-founder and artist Kim Manfredi says, "By uniting the diverse art forms embodied in the East and West Valley art scenes—and everything in between!—we're providing a unique, comprehensive view of the creative heart of Southern California. In a region famous for its global music and arts festivals, the tour increases visibility for local artists while advancing the voice of the Valley."

ABOUT DESERT OPEN STUDIOS

The Tour began with a simple idea in 2020

Now in its fifth year, our very popular Desert Open Studios tour provides an opportunity for Coachella Valley artists to open their studios and behind-the-scenes spaces to the public, shining a light on their unique creative processes and practices. The tour is intended to deepen and broaden the relationship between artist and art-loving audiences and is a unique way for the public to interact with artists: observe their process, purchase artwork, watch demonstrations, and explore spaces not usually open to the public.

PLANNING YOUR TOUR

Embark on your own self-directed adventure tour with the aid of this Handbook and map.

Above:
Detail view of artwork by Warner Graves.

The Artist Index (page 6) lists each participating artist by last name and location number.

In the Artist Studio Directory (beginning on page 7), you'll find photos of artists and artworks, contact information (including studio addresses and accessibility details), and links to websites and social media.

Locations on the Tour Map (pages 28 & 29) are numbered from east to west. Most are easily accessed from California Highway 111, the backbone of the Coachella Valley—but don't ignore the edges of the tour! You'll find participating studios from Indio in the southeast all the way to Desert Hot Springs in the northwest, and even up spectacular Highway 74 to the south.

HANG ON TO THIS HANDBOOK

Although the tour will always be the best opportunity to see the broadest representation of an artist's work, the Handbook provides an option to return for a visit.

In the Artist Studio Directory, all artists have provided their contact information. If you run out of time getting to a chosen studio on your list, then use their information to connect and set up a personal visit.

Desert Open Studios and our annual tours are made possible by a group of dedicated volunteers.

Mixed media, identity-driven

My work speaks to the inequalities within Mexican-American communities and champions the common man as underdog. I combine materials within various abandoned desert locales. My work is replete with layers and textures intertwined with the political, disguised as popular.

Mexicunt-ness is what I manifest into art by transforming multiple different media such as painting, video art, time-based art, haute couture, sculpture, and photography. I make pieces such as sculpture, signage, and garments, for the purpose of being in relationship to the body, specifically my gay Mexican body, to be utilized in performance.

Photographic art

Jeff Sarpa's photographs capture the enigmatic presence of abandoned shoes he has collected across western deserts. Through his large-format images, each shoe becomes a symbol of forgotten lives and unanswered questions, celebrating the enduring legacy of the American West.

Abstract landscapes

The California desert, beaches, and cities deeply influence my paintings and sculptures. On my daily walks I map the colors, shapes, architecture, and light, to create layered artwork that expresses the intersection of natural and manmade environments.

Conceptual, abstract

My collages explore how we judge a person's character based on appearance. Through clothing, hairstyle, and posture, we try to express who we are—but can we really control how others see us?

(760) 905-1441

Representational

I do representational oil paintings and pastel drawings of "skylscapes." I do any type of sky, from sunrises and sunsets to night skies and storm clouds. With the ground plane eliminated, the viewer can marvel at the expansiveness of the sky.

Abstract and figurative contemporary

Exciting colors and unusual themes have been my choice for over fifty years. Presently I'm working on depicting Japanese deserts on Arches paper. It's a love affair, creating something new and special. Brush and airbrush are my tools for happiness.

Laminated stone, based on morphogenesis

Traditional stone sculpture has been subtractive (carving from a single mass or block of stone). My process involves instead an additive process, cutting and assembling pieces using a lamination technique to create the final form.

GET INVOLVED WITH NEXT YEAR'S TOUR

Looking for more ways to support the local creative community? Come help us organize next year's Desert Open Studios tour!

Our volunteers are typically busiest from mid-October through the end of the year, but help is always welcome, particularly in areas like event marketing and social media.

Write to us at:

chris@desertopenstudios.com

PARTICIPATE AS AN ARTIST IN 2026

Participation in next year's tour is open to all artists in the Coachella Valley, and we're always excited to add new faces.

To have your studio featured in Desert Open Studios 2026, write to chris@desertopenstudios.com and join our email list to be notified when registration opens.

STAY IN TOUCH WITH DOS

We hope you enjoyed the Tour this year! Comments? Suggestions? Just want to get on our e-mail list? We're always glad to hear from participants and attendees—past, present, and future.
